

BISHOP CREEK: COMMUNITY AND CONVENIENCE

Bluetree Homes promises “a world of difference” in the home buying experience, and with its new community, Bluetree Homes at Bishop Creek, it aims to set a new standard for what you should expect when you buy a new home.

“We don’t just build homes - we promise to build your trust, answer your questions and make buying your home relaxed and stress-free,” says Yosh Kasahara, general manager of sales and marketing at Bluetree. The company comes from ParkLane Homes and its 30+ years of building award winning homes across Metro Vancouver. “We aim to deliver an exceptional home-buying experience, from start to finish, and provide the outstanding homeowner care that our company is so well-known for,” he says.

Bluetree Homes at Bishop Creek is bordered by Harold Bishop Elementary School and several acres of natural parkland. The location offers convenient access to Highway 1, and is just minutes away from all of the amenities of Guildford Town Centre. Featuring classic Craftsman architecture with brick accents, Bishop Creek townhomes also include private garages and great outdoor space for kids, pets and year-round BBQ’s.

But perhaps the most unique features of the community are the main floor Powder Rooms, and Bonus Rooms on the lower levels. “Many of our buyers have been asking for a bathroom on the main level,” explains Kasahara. “We were able to achieve that in all of these floor plans, and we expect it to be a huge selling feature here at Bishop Creek.” Likewise, the bonus rooms, located just off the garage on the lower level, make for the perfect media room or extra storage space. “We call it the Man Cave,” says Kasahara, “the perfect space for a big screen TV, couch and bar fridge.”

Interiors are finished to the high standards that Bluetree Homes is known for: stone countertops, stainless steel appliances, shaker-style wood cabinets, and durable laminate flooring on the main levels. Best of all, Bishop Creek will be ready for occupancy this summer, in time to get the kids settled before the start of the school year.
